

Title: Gallery Landing Page

Description: Gallery landing page is linked from the DP.com site. It opens in new window.

Annotations:

1. "Send to a Friend" link – will be added under the center image.
 - If previously logged in through DP.com:
 - 1) Log In transfers over
 - 2) Clicking "Send to a Friend" link launches: HTML popup window "Send to a Friend" (See Send to a Friend Popup Page)
 - If not logged:
 - 1) Clicking "Send to a Friend" link launches: HTML Popup window "Register / Log In" (Universal Log In) Current webpage grays out.
2. Register / Log In – New functionality will be added that forces a registration or log in, in order to send to a friend.
 - This layer will only appear if the "Send to a Friend" link is clicked and the user is not logged in (from DP.com).
 - Once Register / Log In is complete, Registration Popup window disappears and "Send to a Friend" window appears in its place. (See Send to a Friend Popup Page)

POPUP Window

1. Popup title – appears at top of popup. “Share with a Friend” or similar. Exact title is tbd by copy/content.
2. Friend’s First Name and Email – are required fields. Fields can support multiple email addresses and names as long as they are separated by a comma. System checks for standard email address format: i.e. the @ symbol, an extension (.com, .edu, .gov). If system detects email address errors or blank field when user clicks “send”, then an error message in red appears above field label, instructing user to correct friend’s email address.
3. Your First name– required field. Sender’s first name.
4. Send button – When user clicks the send button, the system will check for correctly formatted addresses. If there are errors or blank address fields, then error messaging in red appears above the incorrect fields. If address fields are correct, then email is sent and confirmation message appears below send button (see annotation below) All CMR data is collected.

 >Upon successfully sending, confirmation message appears and all other form elements gray out. If “send to another friend” button is clicked, form elements reappear and confirmation message goes away.
5. Disclaimer text – appears at bottom of popup window. Informs guest that addresses will not be used by Disney for other purposes and that the message will appear to have come from the address entered in the “Your Address” field.
6. Confirmation message -If all fields are correct after guest clicks “send”, then message is sent and a confirmation note appears below the send button and above the disclaimer. The note thanks guest and notifies them that message has been sent. A “Send to another friend” button also appears successful sent message.
7. Close x button – appears in upper-right corner of popup. Clicking x button closes window. Any field entries are not saved.
8. Error messaging – appears in red above incorrect address fields once user clicks “send” button
